Assessment Process

We know that every client is unique. That's why we conduct an in-depth assessment process. It allows us to custom tailor our services to meet your specific needs.

To initiate the assessment process, we meet with you, your aging loved one, and your families. We'll talk over lifestyle, medical conditions, and health care requirements. Topics we might cover during this meeting include:

- The range of services we offer
- Matching with the right caregiver
- Daily routines
- Health, medication, and nutrition concerns and issues
- Home cleaning challenges
- Transportation
- Service cost

Once we have covered these things together, we can evaluate the scope of care that you or they might need. We will develop a care plan that gives peace of mind to every member of your support network and care team.

Our Caregivers

Our caregivers are trained to facilitate independence and to offer helpful companion care.

Companion Aide and Hospice Companion Aide Certified

We don't just screen for people who are friendly, honest, and caring to be our caregivers. Once hired, we provide our care professionals with in-house developmental opportunities to improve their caregiving skills. With Families Choice Home Care, you are hiring reliable industry professionals who are among the most skilled in their field.

Families Choice Home Care caregivers have exclusive access to Certified Companion Aide (CCA®) and Certified Hospice Companion Aide (CHCA®) training programs. The CCA® designation indicates elevated skills, knowledge, and industry status. It confers on them the highest standards of caregiver professionalism.

Caregivers can more effectively assist patients and hospice nurses with end of life care through education on death and dying. CHCA® specialized training program was specially-designed by a hospice nurse. Training recipients are more prepared for the emotional toll that accompanies caring for the terminally ill.

So, in addition to their own considerable professional experience, we regularly train our caregivers through state-of-the-art curricula. As a result, Families Choice Home Care caregiving professionals are guaranteed to continue setting the bar for community home care.
